the courthouse needed something done. A motion was made by Little, seconded by Bishop, motion carried.

Lowell Morris, cleaning cemeteries, a part time job, rehiring him to do this job. Zeke Little, Jr. asked if Lowell could be used to clean the park also or use the prisoners to clean the park. Judge Turner stated that when he was in previously they used them the park was the first thing cleaned in the mornings and on the weekend someone was hired to clean. A motion was made by Little, seconded by Thomas, motion carried. Little asked if they had someone to clean the park. Judge Turner stated that this winter the county workers would take care of it because it would be minimal work. He then went on to the Director of Emergency Management, in which he stated he discussed with him and he recommends James Pendergrass at a salary of $10,000 and 911 Coordinator for $5000 both of those are part time jobs. You cannot legally have a part time job and a full time job in county government. A motion was made by Bishop, seconded by Thomas, motion carried. Thomas stated that if people didn't do their jobs they needed to get rid of them. Judge Turner stated that the DES director was at his discretion and he had talked to Pendergrass about training. Turner also stated that this position also brought a lot of money into the county. Then Judge Turner started telling the magistrates if they were concerned about a law they could talk to Henley McIntosh because he knew about the county laws.

A motion to adjourn by Little, seconded by Thomas to adjourn at 9:16 pm.

A couple of hours after the meeting Judge Turner was confronted in the courthouse by a citizen over one of the personnel changes. According to one of the family members, Judge Turner had not told this person that they would not be performing this part of their job anymore before the fiscal court meeting.

LIZA HAD PLANNED ON TAKING her daddy to town to look for a new pair of boots for him. When she came down for breakfast she saw that Clarence was still lying in bed. Since he was an early riser, it was very unusual that he was still asleep and she tried to be quiet as she started breakfast for them. He called out to her and asked what she was doing up so early, and then chuckled. He told her he was tired for some reason and did not feel like shopping for boots. Clarence asked her to bring him a couple pairs of boots home so that he could try them on. After breakfast was over Clarence layed back down and soon was snoring. Liza Jane figured at his age, he could have a lazy day and take a morning nap if he wanted to. She took his truck into town and soon had three pairs of boots she thought he might like. When she went to check out she was surprised to see Jake and Delsie walk in the front door of the shoe store. Jake was guiding Delsie by her elbow. She looked young and happy as she listened to Jake describe the women's boots that he saw on display. At first they did not see Liza and were busy talking about which boots she wanted to try on. Liza paid for the boots and went over to say hello to them. She saw Jake get down on one knee and take Delsie's shoe off and slip on a red boot. She was struck by the tender sight of Jake helping her blind friend try on a new pair of boots. Liza went up to them and said, "I love those red boots Delsie, they look mighty good on you!" Delsie reached out to hug Liza as Jake looked at the ground seemingly a little bit embarrassed. "Hi Jake, I see someone else needed boots besides my father today," Liza commented. "Is Clarence waiting out in the truck for you?" Jake asked Liza. "No, he wanted to stay home and asked me to pick out a couple of pairs of boots and bring them home for him to try on," Liza answered. "That's not like him to miss a trip into town," Jake replied. "He is having a tired, take it easy day he told me," Liza answered lightly. "Will you be by for supper tonight Jake?" Liza asked him as he was taking the red boots off and replacing them with dark blue boots. He told her that he had some business to take care of and wouldn't be able to come for supper. Liza was instantly disappointed and did want him to notice her reaction to his answer. Liza told Delsie to get both pairs because she looked good in both of them. Delsie smiled and told Liza Jane she was a bad influence upon her budget!

Hello from Eastside!
Well, we are still having some mixed up weather but still have not had any snow. I hope everyone had a good Christmas and blessed New Year. My family and I had a good dinner and let the children open their gifts from us. Congrats to Mike Harris! He has retired from being a school bus driver. I'm sure all the ones who rode on his bus will miss him. Dale Harris did not have his son and daughter for Christmas but Dale, my daughter Becky and I went to see them this past Saturday. We are very proud to recognize that two of our Owsley County students, Emily Himes, age 10, and Hailey Byrd, age 7 had their turkeys published and received a Kroger gift car by placing in the top ten. Also, three other Owsley County students, Jose Vazquez, age 7, Nick Svatba, age 17, and Tessa Hunterberger, age 17, also placed in the top 20 for best creative turkey. LETTER TO THE EDITOR

January 5, 2015

To the editor:

Please join me in recognizing and thanking the Owsley County School Board members during school board recognition month during January 2015 for their service, commitment, and dedication to our students and staff members. School Board members are Joyce Campbell, Fannie Couch, Scotty Combs, Gary Deaton, and Sylvia Havicus. These officials have, and will, make some tough decisions, set policy for the district, and create a positive learning environment along with staff at each school that promotes student learning and creates unique learning opportunities for students everyday within our schools.

As education in Kentucky continues to become more complex, so do the tasks of all involved in education including those of our board members. High stakes accountability, increased expectations, increased transparency, additional professional development and training, declining enrollment, and state and federal financial decisions make the job more challenging every day. I encourage all within our community to be actively engaged in promoting student learning and success while embracing the concept of working together to accomplish desired goals.

The classified staff, certified staff, and administrators of the Owsley County School system deserve your support and praise for their daily efforts in the care for and education of our children in our schools. The Owsley County School Board is also well deserving of this support and praise as this group of dedicated community members provide leadership in setting policies and establishing priorities for the direction of our schools.

To learn more about our schools please visit www.owsley.kyschools.us.

The mission of the Owsley County School District is to create an innovative learning environment that breaks down all barriers to student learning and prepares all students for college Career, and the 21st century world.

Help us reach our goals and objectives by working together and encourage each other in the most important work in Owsley County -- educating our students to become successful in their lives.

Sincerely,

Dr. Tim Bobrowski,
Superintendent

Owsley County Schools

Outdoor Truths by Gary Miller

In the winter, one of the most comforting experiences after coming in from the water or woods, is to warm by a hot fire. Even in survival situations a fire is said to not only provide warmth but to give a sense of comfort. Over the years I have noticed how watching a campfire mesmerizes those who sit around it. It has a unique ability to draw individuals to its stage and keep them there. What has recently grabbed my attention is how a stack of logs can be reduced to such a small pile of ashes. It takes half of a wall to hold the wood and only a bucket to hold the ashes. I pondered that thought the other day as I shoveled the remains of my wood. Then I began to put the process in reverse. I imagined how my pile of ashes could be turned into various forms of life. This after all is the idea of macroevolution. It is that all life forms evolved from the smallest matter. The crux of the problem however, is that this belief also affirms that this smallest amount of matter accumulated from nothing. This seems impossible unless you redefine what "nothing" really means. What our atheistic friends are now saying is that nothing really means something. In fact they will tell you they have actually created something from nothing. And while the very statement is suspect, they forget it is "they" who have done it. That is, there was a "they" who started a process. What most Christians believe however is that God created out of nothing. He was the "they" who started the process and He literally created from "no-thing."

When the Hubble space telescope showed that Einstein's theory of relativity was correct, Einstein and everyone then knew that time, space, and matter had a beginning. And if time, space, and matter had a beginning, then something outside of time, space, and matter had to start the process. This was a perfect place to recognize God as the instigator of this wonderful universe - the One who is outside time, space, and matter. This would be too easy however. Evidently it takes more faith to believe that God created the universe out of nothing than to believe that nothing created the universe out of nothing. I guess I just don't have enough faith to be an atheist. Gary Miller gary@outdoortruths.org

CONFIRMED, RE-CONFIRMED

Chips and Splinters from Wagon Fork Road by Tim Biggs

Someone else feels as I do. I have not talked to but I would like to talk to Dr. Ben Carson. His common sense attitude about our country's problems lays out simplified cures. He is someone to listen to about getting back to our needs. The Constitution affords us protection against big governments reach into our freedom day by day. Sunday, September 28th, Dr. Carson confirmed what I wrote in the July 10th issue. (Manchester Times) He told Mike Wallace there might not be a 2016 Presidential Election due to turmoil throughout the USA. It was as if he had read my article about riots all over America. Then the President would declare Martial Law to put down the turmoil. No election if Martial Law exists. Reprinted from July 10th, 2014; if enough people are tired of the way this country is headed, we start to stand up to those that want to tear up our constitution. Some restraints will be put on them. Riots by illegal's and the children that are coming here daily being brought here just for the purpose of turning the government against the people that are trying to do the governments job of protecting our border and keeping out illegal's, which we as citizens have the right to do. Illegal's all over the country will continue the riots against our citizens. Suppose with the pen our President then can declare Martial Law. Our Military Guard which would normally enforce it, wont. Suppose then he can call on the UN troops to do the job for him. Bad, bad mistake! Suppose UN Gun Control voted on Congress Woman Nancy Pelosi may even try to enforce it with the blessings of our Imperial President. An even worse mistake. We as Americans would have to fight a Civil and Communist Socialist War here instead of other places like we have done so often before. In most cases controlled by our politicians not allowed to win. To begin with: Truman firing McArthur in Korea, Johnson in Vietnam to name a few. Stale mates, pull outs, leaving arms, dead and foreign aid behind. Why with all the experiences we have had to deal with, cant we see the direction we are being led from behind? Suppose we don't want to go there? Suppose again we want our freedom? -Tim Biggs

December 30, 2014. She was born in Cow Creek, KY, on April 21, 1942, to the late Ray and Nannie (Taylor) Campbell. She retired from McCalls in Dayton, OH, after 20 years of service.

She is survived by sisters, Lilla Baker of Germantown, OH and Edith Seale of Tucson, AZ; her brothers, James (Ivadean) Wilson of Winchester, KY and Richard (Glenna)

Wilson of Panama City, FL; numerous nieces and nephews.

"There is no footprint too small, that it cannot leave an imprint on this world." -Unknown

Though we are still learning to live with the loss of sweet Easton, we wanted to take the time to say THANK YOU from the bottom of our hearts to those who have helped make it a little easier for us. If we were to list every single person who has helped us, it would take months. We are at a loss for words at the outpouring of love and prayers that came and are still coming from this amazing little town. We know for a fact that there are angels among us, and most want no recognition for their acts of kindness. You know who you are.

A special thanks to the Booneville Funeral Home and its wonderful staff. Each and every one of you gave us a sense of comfort that made that day a little easier. You will never know how much we appreciate you all. Cassie Morgan, you are truly an amazing individual with a heart of gold.

Also, a special thanks to the Owsley County Action Team for allowing us to use their building to host the "Bingo for Easton." We would also like to thank everyone who volunteered, donated prizes and attended that night. A special thanks to Donna Creech who went above and beyond to make sure the night was a success and has continued to be by our sides every day.

Again, THANK YOU ALL AND WE LOVE YOU!

2014 4-H TALK MEET RESULTS (6) 4-H'ERS HEADED TO DISTRICT COMPETITION

The Owsley County 4-H held its annual 4-H Talk Meet on Monday & Tuesday, November 24th & 25th, 2014 at the Owsley County Elementary School and Owsley County High School. The Kentucky 4-H Talk Meet is designed to provide a practical experience which will help youth develop into capable, confident adults who can contribute constructively to their society; to provide experience in which 4-H participants will learn to use their voices effectively; and to provide an opportunity for 4-H participants to develop skills in listening, analyzing and evaluating both their own and others spoken messages.

We had an exceptional group of students participate in 4-H Talk Meet, 64 students participated in 4-H Talk Meet this year. The participants competed according to their ages as of January 1st, 2015, so if the 4-H'er was 10 on January 1st, 2014, they competed against other 10 year olds. The following is a list of County 4-H Talk Meet winners: Carly Smith - 9 year old category, Morgan Begley - 10 year old category, Bradley Hall - 11 year old category. This year there was a tie with Kamryn Campbell and Abby Oliver - 12 year old category, and Timmy Dean - 13 year old category. All champions are scheduled to compete at the District level in April. Best wishes to our (6) 4-H'ers as they compete at the District #2 4-H Talk Meet Event!

Special thanks to Kacey Smith & Jennifer Bryant for judging this event. Also special thanks to the teachers and Principals who assisted us with getting the students prepared for their presentations. One of society's greatest fears is public speaking, congratulations to all of our participants for their presentations! Good luck at the District 4-H Event!
